DESIGN STATISTICS ANNUAL

is part of the research issued every year by the IGDR (Institute of Global Design Research). Annually research is made of the design field and collected in a printed edition completed by a website and an archive.

The research is based on design magazines, which are collected globally. Analyses are made from imaging and texts, showing variation of designer's representation within media.

The range of products, materials and colours are also investigated. The total material shows a good picture of the year of design 2007.

The I.D Magazine edition covers seven issues of the magazine. I.D magazine is an American international design magazine F&W Publications Inc. in Cincinnati, Ohio run by Julie Lasky as editor-in-chief.

average designer

Jonathan Mannings was born back in 1973 when Led Zeppelin were on tour in North America. This was the year of the metric system in America. He grew up to be a designer working in a global field.

In the year of 2007 he is most recognized for his Symbiosis Chair, made out of white plastic and birch plywood. He splits his time between his own New York studio and his partner Kip Spencer who is mainly working in Europe.

We often see him confident but casual looking straight into the viewer's eyes but rarely showing his well used hands. The light blue shirt and his worn in jeans gives him a casual elegance. But whatever occasion, he never leaves his favourite black sneakers. His resemblance of a young Charles Eames is striking, not only in his appearance but also in the products.
